

Hugh Lane Gallery

Transition Year Programme

Tuesday 24 January – Thursday 26 January 2023, 10am-2.30pm and Tuesday 31 January-Thursday 2 February 2023, 10am-2.30pm ***

*Applicants must be available to complete the full six day programme. This programme is taking place in person in the Hugh Lane Gallery, Parnell Square North Dublin 1.

Founded in 1908, the Hugh Lane Gallery is regarded as one of the first modern art galleries in the world. Founded by Hugh Lane, a Cork-born art dealer and collector together with Dublin Corporation and a varied and distinguished body of supporters, the Gallery's collection of Irish and international art also includes stained glass by Harry Clarke and the renowned studio of Francis Bacon. In addition there are dynamic programmes of temporary exhibitions and education as well as a conservation programme.

During this six day course you will gain an insight into the operations of the gallery through illustrated talks with gallery curators, artists and lecturers. You will discover more about some of the social, artistic, political and economic innovators represented in the Gallery's collection as well as explore themes arising from our exhibitions. You will participate in artist-led workshops and where relevant also complete assignments in your own time which are subsequently shared and discussed with the group and artist.

Please note: You do not have to be studying art or intending to study art to participate in this TY course. What is required is curiosity, enthusiasm, a willingness to participate, actively contribute to discussions and complete assignments.
